

BRUMA COLLECTION

BY GIOPATO & COOMBES

A winter day, still and silent. A place suspended in time and space. A soft mist had arrived slowly, ending up enveloping everything around us. Near and far had changed, while the objects had become masses of misty air. From this spatial chiaroscuro, the Bruma project was born.

The Bruma collection is a balance between density and absence. Something that leaves space, and this is an integral part of a structural, compositional, and material level.
