

CENSER

BY APPARATUS

A result of experimentation with geometric forms in the Apparatus library, the Censer connects ancient ritual with the tradition of coveted objects. Spun, cast and machined brass are assembled to create a form that recalls a chalice. as an incense burner, smoke emerges from a hand-cast porcelain dome and as a candleholder the Censer becomes a brass torch that emits a soft glow.

Dimensions

6" W x 10" H