

KATE BOXER- DRYPOINT AND HAND COLOURED

BY KATE BOXER

Kate Boxer is a painter and print maker working in Sussex, where she was born. She trained as an artist via classes in London art schools in the early 1990's and has been working as a fine artist ever since, exhibiting in many galleries worldwide.
Kate's work focuses on the eccentric nature of both animals and humans, and often blurring the lines between the two, giving animals human qualities and vice versa. Her subjects range from famous individuals (Batman, Napoleon, Dick Turpin to name but a few) to various animals - dogs, wolves, rabbits - all of which are given the same iconic status as her human 'celebrities' in her work.
Her prints and etchings often feature hand coloured and hand worked areas in mediums such as oil pastels, gouache and even real flowers - leaving textures and depth to the piece and making each piece unique in it's own right. All prints are also limited edition and hand signed.
